CANADIAN STATESMAN DIED TODAY

Ottawa, Canada, March 7—Sir William Ross, senator of the Dominion of Canada and former premier of the province of Ontario, died today after an illness lasting several months. By profession as a lawyer Sir George William was known as "Father of New Ontario" owing to his legislative activities in the development of that province. He was recognized as one of the best public speakers in the Dominion. He was a prolific writer on education, temperance and contemporary history. He was always a strong supporter for reciprocity between the United States and Canada.

Italians Are Shot

Cleveland, O., March 7. Frank Catalano, Constantino Pudo and Frank Raymond were shot early today by an unidentified assailant just outside Catalano's home.

A board of blockade by the police men as they started to work. Pudo was badly injured. Black Handers are suspected. A year ago Catalano received several Black Hand letters, several threatening him with death.

ANONYMOUS LETTER SENT TO CONGRESSMAN

Washington, March 7—That Catherine Winters, who disappeared from her home in New Castle, Ind., is in Cleveland, O., is urged in a mysterious letter received by Representative Gray, congressman from the New Castle district. He received a newspaper clipping about his asking federal police searching for the missing girl. Enclosed was a man's note written in heavy ink and underscored below it in heavy pencil was "a degenerate white slave criminal."

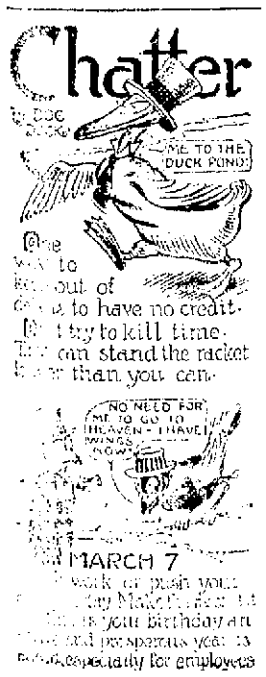
Gray called the matter to the attention of the federal authorities in Washington.

ENGAGEMENT DENIED

Washington, March 7.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, through her social secretary, Miss Belle Hagner, today made an unqualified denial of the report that Miss Eleanor Wilson was engaged to marry Secretary of the Treasury William C. McAdoo.

FUGITIVE ARRESTED

New Orleans, La., March 7. A man wanted in various cities, I. M. Friedman was arrested and police say he confessed $500 forgery in St. Louis. He gave Cincinnati as



HUERTA EXPECTS TO MAKE WAR ON REBELS NEW DEAL EXPECTED

Washington, March 7. Important and immediate developments that may change the whole Mexican situation were pending today. The long deferred movement at Torreon against the rebels was believed to be beginning at last. Huerta, it is believed, will not only take the field, but is gathering a special army in Mexico City. Should Huerta begin an active campaign it was believed Carranza would hardly remain out of the fight.

In the face of these movements it is said Huerta would abdicate in favor of one of the strong men in Mexico favorable to the United States and England and should Huerta be able to stamp out the revolution in Mexico, England and the United States would agree upon a provisional president whom they would recognize. High officials deny that any such intervention had or would be made.

Mexico City, March 7. Huerta's strongest financial move since he became dictator was expected to result from a decree which was ready for his signature enacting a government bank. The bank will issue $500,000,000 in paper. The securities will be $400,000,000 in bonds, which were authorized during the Madero regime, but which Huerta has been unable to sell because of the failure of the United States to recognize the government.

Huerta today was perfecting his plans to fight the rebels. He indicated his purpose to reject all arbitration proposals. Asked by the United Press if he would agree to arbitration between the United States and Mexico at the hands of Chili, Brazil and Argentine, he said: "Such a plan is impossible because none of the South American countries can mention have cordial relations with Mexico."

Lord Cowdray's oil company deposed a man by the name of Creel, former American ambassador to Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., March 7. The fact that Luis Terrazas is more valuable to General Villa alive than dead is believed today to indicate that he will not be executed if his target fails to pay Villa a ransom. Latest reports from Chihuahua are that the boy is still a prisoner. Friends of the family here think that Villa will not allow the execution of the prisoner.

The Anglo-American commission to investigate the Benton murder resolved today. The Carothers commission continued to examine other witnesses and it is understood that Carranza instructed the commission to pay more attention to the investigation of Gustav Ramon, the American citizen, than to the murder of Benton.

Washington, March 7. Secretary Bryan said today that the American-British commission appointed to examine the cause of Wm. S. Benton was still investigating and no official action is understood the commission will make no further effort to complete its task on which it was originally detailed.

FAREWELL DINNER IS GIVEN TO E. E. KNOX

With that fine sentiment, characteristic of their order, a number of Knight Templar friends gave a farewell dinner, Friday evening, to Earnest E. Knox, who is leaving next week to take up his residence in Cincinnati. The event was a complimentary five course affair, served by Caterer Sch[illegible] the Masonic Temple.

For over a dozen years Sir Knight Knox has been a resident of the Pearl[illegible] and in that time, with his good wife, has been prominent in the activities of the city in social news, society and fraternal ways. In Masonic circles he has been one of the shin[illegible] lights and now that he is removing to Cincinnati, to avail himself of a flattering business opportunity, it was only fitting that his fellow Masons should want to give him the testimonial of their goodwill and confidence.

The speed was a complete surprise to the genial guest of honor. A committee consisting of E. W. Breeden, E. W. Baker and Will Zottman, quietly worked up the affair. All the guests were seated at the tables when Sir Knight [illegible] Templar upon a pretext [illegible] was escorted to the banquet room. The reception to [illegible] was similar to that accorded [illegible] with pleasure on the part of [illegible]

PE-RU-NA

Peruna is not a new and untried remedy—our grandfathers used it.

Fifty years ago it was on sale, nearly every drug store in the country can supply it. It is recognized as a time-tried remedy in thousands of homes for coughs, colds, grip, catarrh and those maladies arising from such derangements.

TODAY IT IS JUST AS EFFECTIVE, JUST AS RELIABLE AS EVER AND NOTHING BETTER HAS BEEN DEVISED AS A READY-MADE MEDICINE.

Those who object to Liquid Medicine will find Peruna Tablets a desirable [illegible] for CATARRHAL CONDITIONS.

Former Portsmouth Man In An Exciting Crash Of Steamers

In the crowded Potomac river [illegible] the steamers Newport News and Northumberland collided Thursday and both steaming vessels were badly battered. [illegible] were thrown into [illegible] and the greatest excitement prevailed until the passengers [illegible] ascertained that neither [illegible] the dangers of sinking.

Among the passengers on the Newport News enroute from Washington to Norfolk was Dr. Harry Byrnes, a former Portsmouth boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byrnes. Mr. Byrnes has many local friends with copies of Washington papers telling [illegible] the story of the [illegible] Dr. Byrnes had [illegible] the report, City on [illegible] and had started home on the Newport News when the collision occurred. The passengers on the [illegible] were placed on [illegible] and were taken to Norfolk.

Collector [illegible] Washington Herald says: "Helpless in a howling gale, with her steering gear smashed and [illegible] caught in a field of water lilies, the steamer Newport News, bound for Norfolk with more than half a hundred passengers, crashed into the steamer Northumberland, with a score of passengers, at the junction of the Potomac river and Eastern branch early last night, tearing away the port side of the Northumberland and putting both vessels out of commission.

"With a gaping hole in her side, three staterooms demolished, her timbers exposed, and the exterior of her main and saloon decks carried away amidships, the Northumberland fought her way through a heavy ice jam under full speed and steamed to her dock at the foot of Seventh street southwest, where her passengers [illegible] ashore. None of them or the crew was injured.

"Driving before the high wind that swept the river and piled up huge cakes of ice, the Newport News, with her stern broken in and both steam and hand steering gear demolished, was saved from [illegible] blown hard ashore by the [illegible] little Firefighter, which steamed alongside the steamer and stood by to take off passengers in the event that the Newport News had been damaged below the [illegible] water line."

Claims Conspiracy To Drive Him Away From Own Home

...sion are the habitual attendants at police court sessions treated to such a dramatic incident as was furnished Saturday morning when Squire William Metllone, when dispassioned tones, he defended himself of the disorderly charges preferred by his wife. The Metllone Friday afternoon gesticulating wildly, the young squire maintained his innocence of the charge, and laid the blame for his difficulties upon the shoulders of his wife's sister and her alleged lover from Cincinnati, and her half-brother, all whom, the squire declared, usurped his rights in his own home.

Time and again he shook his long finger at his wife's relatives whom he characterized as drinking, beer-drinking and playing, beer-drinking fools, who were anxious to cause the end of the road in order that they could carry on to their hearts' content.

The squire complained that he was being virtually driven out of his own home, and that he was afraid to go to work about the house, going without breakfast.

The defendant collapsed at the end of his lengthy and eloquent tongue, and Col. Joseph Stoler, the court bailiff, had to resort to cold water to revive him. The mayor assured the squire that he would get a fair and impartial hearing, and that his rights would be zealously guarded by the court. Before launching into his speech, the squire had asked for a continuance of the hearing in order that he could secure a lawyer to defend him, but the mayor refused, on the ground that it would involve an unnecessary expense for the defendant.

After a conference with Prosecuting Attorney Small, the mayor turned over the $7325 stolen from C. C. Miller, the Fullerton, Ky., barber, last Wednesday afternoon, to the rightful owner, through his authorized messenger, Eugene Gilliban of Fullerton. Dick Tingler, the confessed thief is in the county jail awaiting examination by the grand jury for the offense.

Captain McCarty detailed Officer Henderson to investigate a complaint received from residents in the vicinity of Nineteenth street and Grandview avenue Friday night that prowlers were lurking about in that vicinity, but the officer could find no trace of the alleged suspicious looking characters.

Fear that her boy had been picked up by the police for violating the curfew ordinance prompted Mrs Charles Clevenger to call up police headquarters about ten o'clock Friday evening. She had sent the boy to the drug store on an errand, and when he did not return home as quickly as she thought he should became worried. The boy turned up all right later.

Chas. Cox, an employee of the Pure Mills company of Erwin, pleaded guilty in the police court Saturday morning to a charge of assault with intent to wound, and was fined $20 and costs. J. W. Gravenor, the prosecuting witness, was on hand to see that the defendant's plea of guilty made it unnecessary for him to appear.

An effort was made by the mayor during the session to get Cox to consent to the case being continued for another week, but Cox refused on the ground that he could not afford to lose another day's work. The assault charged against Cox occurred in the form on the Pure Mills company on February 28th, and followed by a quarrel between the two men.

Cooks and cooks was fined $10 and cost by Judge Dunning. Dave Winton, a negro, who resisted arrest on Officers Flowers and Fry in the restaurant on the charge of assaulting a white man, Richardson. The officers report that Dunning was guilty of other disorderly acts in the corridor. In default of the $10 and costs Dave will be sent to the county jail.

"Buick Bug" Coming For The Auto Show

R. S. Prichard, who proposes to give Portsmouth its first automobile show on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 12, 13 and 14, at his new fire-proof garage on Gallia street, announced Saturday that he had closed a deal for the display of the "Buick Bug," an automobile that holds the world's record for 20 miles.

The "Buick Bug" does not belie its name, for it resembles a huge pinching bug and from its looks you can hardly tell whether it is coming or going. It was designed by three of the world's greatest drivers, Messrs. Burman, Chevrolott and Strang. It was built under their personal supervision by the Buick people and is equipped with an extra large engine. The "Buick Bug" is expected to arrive in Portsmouth next Monday or Tuesday, and no doubt auto lovers will flock to the Prichard garage in droves to view the speed marvel, which has made the name "Buick" a household word throughout the country.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Trinity Scouts Meet

Trinity Boy Scouts held a very enthusiastic meeting last night at Trinity church. Over 40 Scouts were out. Mr. C. W. Ridenour, field secretary of the Boy Scouts, was in charge of the meeting and a splendid program was arranged. Mr. Ridenour gave the boys an account of his recent trip to Pittsburg, where he visited the famous Carnegie Institute. Geo. Thomas gave the boys information relative to the Lexington-Frankfort hike this month. About fifteen boys expect to make the trip and Scout Commissioner Kinsey is already booking ball games to be played enroute. The boys then discussed their spring and summer program, which is carried out will be a dandy. The Trinity troop has been a great success, a great number of their Scouts attaining the First Class Rank.

Good Meeting at Kendall Avenue

Scout Master Langhorne reports a good meeting at Kendall Avenue last night, with a record breaking attendance. The chief business transacted last night was the arranging for their big meeting on Monday evening, when the Crusaders class will present this troop a beautiful troop flag. The boys will put on a great program at this time, which will consist of signaling and first aid. John Bryant was elected Scout Scribe. Two new boys applied for membership, Raymond Rhoden, and Cesear Williams. They will be voted upon at the next meeting. Although one of the youngest troops in the city, Kendall Avenue now boasts of two First Class Scouts, one of them having won four Merit Badges.

Basket Ball Games Postponed

Owing to the High School horse race last night and a number of important troop meetings, all Boy Scout Basket Ball games were postponed until next Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian Gym. The following games will be played:

Baptist vs. First Presbyterians.
Trinity vs. Second Presbyterians.

Next Week's Scout Events

Monday—Presentation of troop flag at Kendall Avenue. Rally of East End Scouts at Manly church.

Tuesday—Basket Ball League games at First Presbyterian Gym. Scout Rally at Bigelow church. Meeting of the U. B. Scouts at U. B. church.

Thursday—Annual meeting of the Boy Scout League at Boys headquarters.

Friday—Mt. Hope Scouts vs. Trinity Scouts, Basket Ball League game.

Second Presbyterian church. Meeting of Terminal Scouts. Rally of First Christian Scouts.

Saturday—Boy Scout hike to Swanger's Valley.

"ALL STARS" CHALLENGED

The Premiers No. 1, composed of James Wardle, L. G. Howard, L. W. Sheridan, Chris Mahanes and P. W. Young, have issued a challenge to the All Stars to play a series of three games on the Big Horse alleys on Thursday evening, March 12, total pins to count. The All-Stars are composed of Billy Barron, Fred and Baron Preston, Ray Walters and Dave Conners, and are ready to compete in the prize money or for national bowling championship held at Buffalo, N. Y., this month. The Premiers No. 1 will give the All Stars a fair battle and it is hoped will get the championship on their bowling ability.

Rain Coat Stolen By Horsemen

Hillsboro, O., March 7.—Ernest Brecker and B. F. Martin of Leesburg, while taking horses to market to Portsmouth, put up at the barn of George Turpen on East Second street, Wednesday night. When they got here Thursday morning they took Turpen's raincoat with them.

Turpen notified the police of the fact and told them that the men were to return to-day or tomorrow today.

Captain Hans Rauch and Patrolman McCorkle to-day found an early model Ford N. & W. passenger train at the Front depot this morning. They had the rain coat with them.

Brecker and Martin have pleaded not guilty to the charge and both claimed the theft of the other. They were each fined $25 and costs in the mayor's court this morning. They paid their fines and left for their home.

New York "Bagman" Pleads Guilty in Court

Arthur A. McLean, long treasurer of the Democratic state committee of New York, and close friend of Charles F. Murphy boss of Tammany and till recently Democratic leader in the state, has pleaded guilty on account to the charge of [illegible] from contractors on state work. As treasurer of the committee he received contributions from contractors engaged on construction work for the state in violation of a law passed a few years ago. This was the first definite step of an investigation into grafting in connection with contractors on state roads, and the Erie canal. Other men have been indicted and will be tried later.

Special District Attorney White, who prosecuted the case, believed McLean had no criminal [illegible] but merely followed [illegible] policy of his superiors, as committed to a system of contributions and [illegible] by contractors.

TERMINALS

Rev. P. S. Jenkins, state Baptist evangelist, will have charge of the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. sunday Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

Ten brakemen were put back to work on the Kenova division of the N. & W. Saturday morning.

Marsh Fitzer, an employee of the N. & W. roundhouse, was taken suddenly ill with heart trouble Friday afternoon and had to be removed to the Y. M. C. A. where he was given first aid. He was later removed to his home on Mabert road.

Bernard Heid spoke to a large crowd in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening at 6:30. He gave a splendid talk on "The Life of Joseph." Mr. Heid is becoming quite a favorite with the railroad men.

Rev. Paul Langhorne of the Kendall Avenue Baptist church had charge of the shop meeting in the lower yards Saturday noon.

E. B. Osborn of the Y. M. C. A. will have charge of the 6 o'clock Sunday services. At a vote taken last Sunday it was agreed to hold a service at this time every Sunday, at which the religious director will have charge.

N. & W. Conductor L. T. Smith of Portsmouth had his left wrist sprained and his left knee injured at Spruce Creek, W. Va., Friday, when he was standing in the caboose and the train gave a sudden jerk, throwing him to the floor. He continued on his run and had the wrist and knee attended to when he arrived home.

N. & W. extra, in charge of engines Nos. 492 and 478, struck a large rock that had fallen on the track at Hale, W. Va., Friday. One of the engines was derailed but was put back on the track without the aid of a wrecking crew.

N. & W. freight drawn by engines 1046 and 412, struck several large rocks two miles east of Dunlow, W. Va., Friday, but no damage was done to the train.

When N. & W. extra No. 1140 was pulling out of the west end of the Williamson yards Friday morning a journal box on one of the cars broke and derailed that car and two others. The Williamson wrecker cleared the track in 30 minutes.

Mrs. Harmon Vetuer of Gallia pike returned home Saturday from a visit to her relatives at South Webster and Hales Creek.

Miss Jennie Lawson of Gallia pike is able to be up after a long illness with mumps.

The Terminal Boy Scouts held an interesting meeting at the school house Friday afternoon. C. W. Ridenour had charge of the meeting.

Charles Jackson of Gallia pike is threatened with the mumps. Mr. Jackson just recovered from a long illness with bronchial trouble.

AN UPSTANDING MAN.

In the high repute he has made for himself in the twelve months he has occupied the presidential chair, Woodrow Wilson has no where else so displayed the admirable traits that have won him the unbounded confidence of the people as in his insistence that he will not let any clamor of men, or urgency of interests drive this country to a needless war with Mexico.

His word meet the sober sense and justice of the public mind. Newspapers that pander to the sensational, enterprises of dubious honor, may shriek for war, but the one fact remains, Mexico has as yet offered us no provocation that would justify armed clash with her, and both our mission and ability to intervene in her distractions and bring about peace and order are too uncertain and too serious to be rushed into upon mere hurrah.

It may sound big to talk of our mission and there may be hint of the humiliation before other nations, but to this sound and fury may be opposed the cold fact, that twice recently in the Balkans, a condition of strife, pillage and disorder reigned, a thousand times worse than now disturbs Mexico, and yet none of the big powers heard any call to intervene on its own account and set things right.

The mission of these United States may be higher and better than that of any other nation and the best way to so show is to mind its own business.

Mayor Gill of Seattle, who was recalled a year ago, and then beaten for reelection, was elected again last week, by over 11,000 majority. What does that prove.

WE SHALL SEE.

Because the treasury of the state is practically bankrupt, West Virginia will not have the funds to be represented at the Pacific Panama exposition as supposably provided by the legislature.

The Sheffield Telegraph, which counts itself as the leader in the movement to give the state an exhibit at the exposition, boasts that failure to secure a state appropriation will not cause the state to go unexhibited and it says one hour's pay donated by each person in the state, will give a bigger fund and a better exhibit, than would have been the case with state aid, and the proud and generous "snakes" will promptly and cheerfully "chip up," in fact preferring to have it that way, rather than force the whole public to pay.

That listens real fine and we shall see what we shall see. Still, though our auricular appendages are trimmed acute, we do not expect them to be annoyed with a din caused by the tremendous inrush of voluntary contributions.

The Athens Messenger thinks that congressmen should undergo an examination of their own capacity to make laws, instead of them requiring a literary examination of emigrants for citizenship. That's all true enough, but if we voters were all real literary fellers would we elect the congressmen we do?

THE SOVEREIGN "PEEPUL."

Occasionally one hears a Democrat complaining of Governor Cox for allowing the civil service law. Now this man Cox has proven himself a mighty executive, but to place the sole responsibility for the civil service law upon him is carrying the impress of his power too far.

It is the people, the sovereign people themselves and alone, who must be charged with that much discussed and "cussed" statute. They voted it into the constitution of the state in 1912 and there it is.

If they didn't want it they shouldn't have voted as they did. Governor Cox can't repeal it, nor as governor can he ignore it. The only way it can be got out of the fundamental law of the state is for the people to vote it out.

If William H. Taft keeps it up he will soon have a national reputation for loquacity, instead of jocularity.

A TIMELY EXPERIMENT.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger has entered upon an experiment, the outcome of which will be closely watched by every editor of daily papers in fact, by the whole world of journalism.

It occurred to its publishers that the public taste for the cheap and the gaudy had been appealed to the limit and there must be a demand for more of quality and less of quantity. To test this out it has doubled its size, put on several features known as feature staff and circulation [illegible] Sunday comics and supplements abandoned. As a result [illegible] got elapsed to give the excellent [illegible] seems predicated upon the appeal to [illegible] ment of the innovation and the knowledge that the best [illegible] meets the most liberal support [illegible] means to be under the new [illegible] of an aristocratic and cultured [illegible]

It Always Pays

"[illegible] the one investment that always yields returns."
—Isaac F. Marcosson

Many persons want to make money too fast and often lose what they have by risking it on questionable ventures.

The savings bank way is the best until one has accumulated some capital and acquired experience and judgment to enable him to make sound investments on a larger scale. A savings account does not compel the investor to go back and start over again because of losses by speculation or otherwise.

One can invest small amounts in a savings account. He can invest them at any time, and his money will begin to earn interest at once. The interest, as soon as it is added to the principal, begins to earn more interest itself and thus the account grows in two ways.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

Matrimonial Bell Buoys.

"I think it would be a good thing for every husband and wife to keep a sort of chart like captains of vessels do," observed the Clubwoman.

The Young Married Woman pricked up her ears.

"Of course on a captain's chart, all the rocks and shoals and reefs are marked, and all he has to do is to make his course so as to avoid them."

"If they were only marked for the matrimonial voyage," sighed the Young Married Woman. "The trouble is you run bang on them before you know they are there."

"You ought to be able to tell a little bit when you are getting near. You can always know if water is shallow by its appearance, and there's usually surf when there are rocks or reefs."

"On the matrimonial trip there is never a slip," sighed the Young Married Woman. "You just get ship-wrecked, and that's all there is to it."

"If you looked sharp, you'd see the signs," said the Clubwoman. "And that's the reason I say make a chart. If you see a certain subject of conversation makes John cross, mark on your chart,—'Avoid urging joining Country Club,' or whatever it may be. If he finds that trailing clear ashes all over the house brings on a heated lecture on neatness, he should put up a bell buoy, 'Try to be neat.' If the wife's brand of jokes only lead to sarcastic remarks, she should draw a neat little picture of a reef with sharp teeth and mark it, 'Wrong sense of humor,' and so on."

"That isn't a bad idea," mused the Young Married Woman. "He is always telling things on me to our friends which he thinks are funny, but which are really unkind, for it is holding me up to ridicule."

"You make your own chart," advised the Clubwoman, "and let him make his. You'll find you'll have it pretty well marked up. There are all sorts of bell buoys that need to be installed. Refusing to make friends with his friends may be a danger spot; nagging about some habit, another; knowing it all, a third. There are apt to be plenty of them. The thing to do is to watch the current of every-day life, and when you see a little ripple, or some choppy white wares, that have been stirred up by something said or done, mark it down on your chart. And then avoid that topic, or habit, or whatever it may be, in the future."

"I am afraid there would be so many bell buoys there'd be no channel ahead," sighed the Young Married Woman. "I'd have to reverse engines or drop anchor."

"Oh, no," laughed the Clubwoman, "the sea is wide. And if you would avoid these little causes of friction for a while, they'd eventually drop out of sight and you could take your chart home and have a free channel."

"If I thought that, I'd start in with my chart today," said the Young Married Woman, as she rose to go

"Try it," urged the Clubwoman. "You'll find your matrimonial voyage going more pleasantly and with less danger. What is the use of running on rocks when you can avoid them. And a very little rock may make a hole that will [illegible]"

Trinity Bible Class

(By H. M. S.)

The Men's Big Bible Class at Trinity will have a memorable session tomorrow. The big feature it is said, will be the big surprise the Pilgrim Singers Quartet, augmented, will spring on the class something entirely new, something spectacular that will surprise all members. It will be a great treat for the bunch and will come off at 9:45 sharp. The Times man is not allowed to give the full program or cast of characters in this All Star bill, nor can we tell who is to "star" with the Pilgrim Singers, but you can take it from us it's going to be some feature, quite worth your while. Do not forget the place, the date and the hour and be there. Visitors welcome.

Next to this feature, or perhaps more properly dividing honors with it, will be the lessons, and this with Prof. Finney on the rostrum is always full of interest. There are no dull times in the Men's Big Class.

Do not forget that 3our attendance thing by Easter.

Woodmen Plan For Big Time March 20

A most enjoyable time was had Friday evening by approximately 25 members of the Modern Woodmen, Royal Neighbors, and their families at the Modern Woodmen hall, corner Third and Chillicothe streets, who attended the reception given by River City Camp, M. W. of A. During the evening, an interesting program was rendered consisting of music by the Viola Trio, readings by Miss Nellie Rossinger and Miss Nellie Daugh ty.

Another enjoyable feature of the program was the inspection of the Modern Woodmen degree team, the members of which went through their various movements with the unerring precision which has won for them plaudits all over the country. The majority of the women folk had never been privileged to witness the team maneuvers, and they were unanimously pleased at the spectacle.

Addresses were made by Nate B. Gilliland, George W. Sheppard, Pete Smith, C. W. Bauer and others of the order who were present. At the conclusion of the exercises a tempting spread was served to the guests, which was served by the members of the degree team.

So successful was the social affair Friday evening that the officers of the lodge have decided to hold them more frequently in the future.

John Barrymore At Lyric Monday

John Barrymore, [illegible] the [illegible] time [illegible] dramatic favorite, is to appear at the moving picture version of the celebrated comedy success, "An American Citizen" at the Lyric on Monday and Tuesday.

The construction of his famous [illegible] favorite of the American stage with a play that is recognized as [illegible] one of the greatest comedy successes in modern drama? Careful in motion pictures marks another decisive step in the forward march of the photoplay. "An American Citizen," by Madeleine Lucette Ryley, a trans-continental comedy romance with a million laughs and few sighs, presents the [illegible] star in a role almost [illegible] suited to himself.

The production is made up of four rollicking reels with humorous situations throughout. It is one of the few legitimate stage successions with a sustained comedy interest. Mr. Barrymore is irresistible, and the play is wholly fascinating.

Old Case Bobs Up

[illegible] United States of Dr. E. H. Mc[illegible] against Dr. William Scott [illegible] for [illegible] on common pleas [illegible] on Monday, March 16th, 1914, [illegible] the [illegible] for [illegible] through [illegible] court [illegible] case [illegible] the [illegible] forenoon [illegible] the entertaining [illegible] of today and the events that was packed to the doors was more than pleased with her. At the close of the evening's play [illegible] many were heard to say that this is [illegible] number of the course was the best one that they had ever witnessed and hoped that she would return next year.

"Struggle" is a powerful drama. He was the son of a [illegible] and was converted by a Christian missionary who persuaded [illegible] Indian boy to go to college. The Indian boy of the western plains entered college with the safe purpose of uplifting his people. The account of his breaking into society and of his first love [illegible] make the interpretation more interesting. Stronghearth's [illegible] during a Columbia football game brought out the splendid ability of Miss Stahl in all its beauty and power.

The Indian's true love for his people was shown in the end of the play when he gave up the woman he loved to return to rule his own people. The audience was enthralled that they applauded Miss Stahl back several times. Since her visit last evening she has a firm position in the hearts of Portsmouth.

Principal Creveling announced before the lecture that this season's course had been a complete success and that definite plans are now under way for a larger course next year. It will contain nine numbers, including one popular entertainer, one magician, three lectures, one male quartet and three concerts.

The proceeds of this year's course have been so large that 200 new volumes will be purchased for the reference library of the High school. It is much money is forthcoming next year as there was this the local high school will have one of the best school libraries in southern Ohio.

On account of there being nine numbers in next year's course the price will have to be raised.

More Help Needed

While hundreds of big plants throughout the country are working on a 50 or 55 hour week, local plants continue to run along in the even better old style way, giving employment to as many as could [illegible] conditions.

The Portsmouth Steel company Saturday posted notices at various downtown places that they are badly in need of 100 additional laborers.

LIABILITY CO. IS SUED

Attorney Milner, Miller & Scarl filed a suit in common pleas court Saturday, in which Henry H. Bowman is plaintiff, and The American Fidelity Company is defendant. The defendant is an Employers' Liability insurance and the plaintiff had a policy with it. While the plaintiff was pressing in the machinery at Star Lumber, Jackson county, one Charles C. Shaffer, in the employ of the plaintiff, was injured, and brought suit for damage against the plaintiff and the plaintiff was compelled to pay him $357.96, and he now asks the court to have the defendant reimburse him [illegible] per cent.

MRS. WINN'S ADVICE TO WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be Restored to Health.

[illegible] City, Mo. — "The doctors told [illegible] said never be a mother. Every month the pains were so bad that I could not bear my weight on one foot. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had not finished the first bottle when I felt greatly relieved and I took it until it made me sound and well and I now have two fine baby girls. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly as it has done for me. I always speak a word in favor of your medicine when women who suffer when I have an opportunity." — Mrs. H. T. Winn, Crescent Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

What Another Woman says:

[illegible], Ga. — "I tell some suffering every day of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for me. I could not eat or rest, had stomach and was in bed some. I could not do my housework, walking distance without pain. I tried doctors' medicine and different patent medicines to get relief. My husband bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in two weeks I could eat anything. I can sleep like a healthy baby, walk a mile or more distance without feeling tired. I gladly recommend your medicine to women who suffer, as I feel sure it will help them." — Mrs. CHARLIE BAGGETT, Cumming, Ga.

"Homes of Character" No. 256

In design No. 256, all the desirable features of No. [illegible] interior and exterior have been retained. The lines of the original are retained and the same materials used, except the chimney, where roughed faced brick is substituted for [illegible] stone or dressed cobblestones. The rooms, while considerably reduced in size, will meet the requirements of most families. Under average conditions this design should be built complete, for $[illegible]. To carry out the spirit of the exterior the main rooms should be finished in oak. White enamel would be most suitable for the bedrooms. Either hot air, hot water or vapor heating plants can be used in these houses.

The estimate of cost includes all materials and labor required to complete, except floor coating and lighting fixtures.

No. 256. Size [illegible] Cost [illegible] to $4000

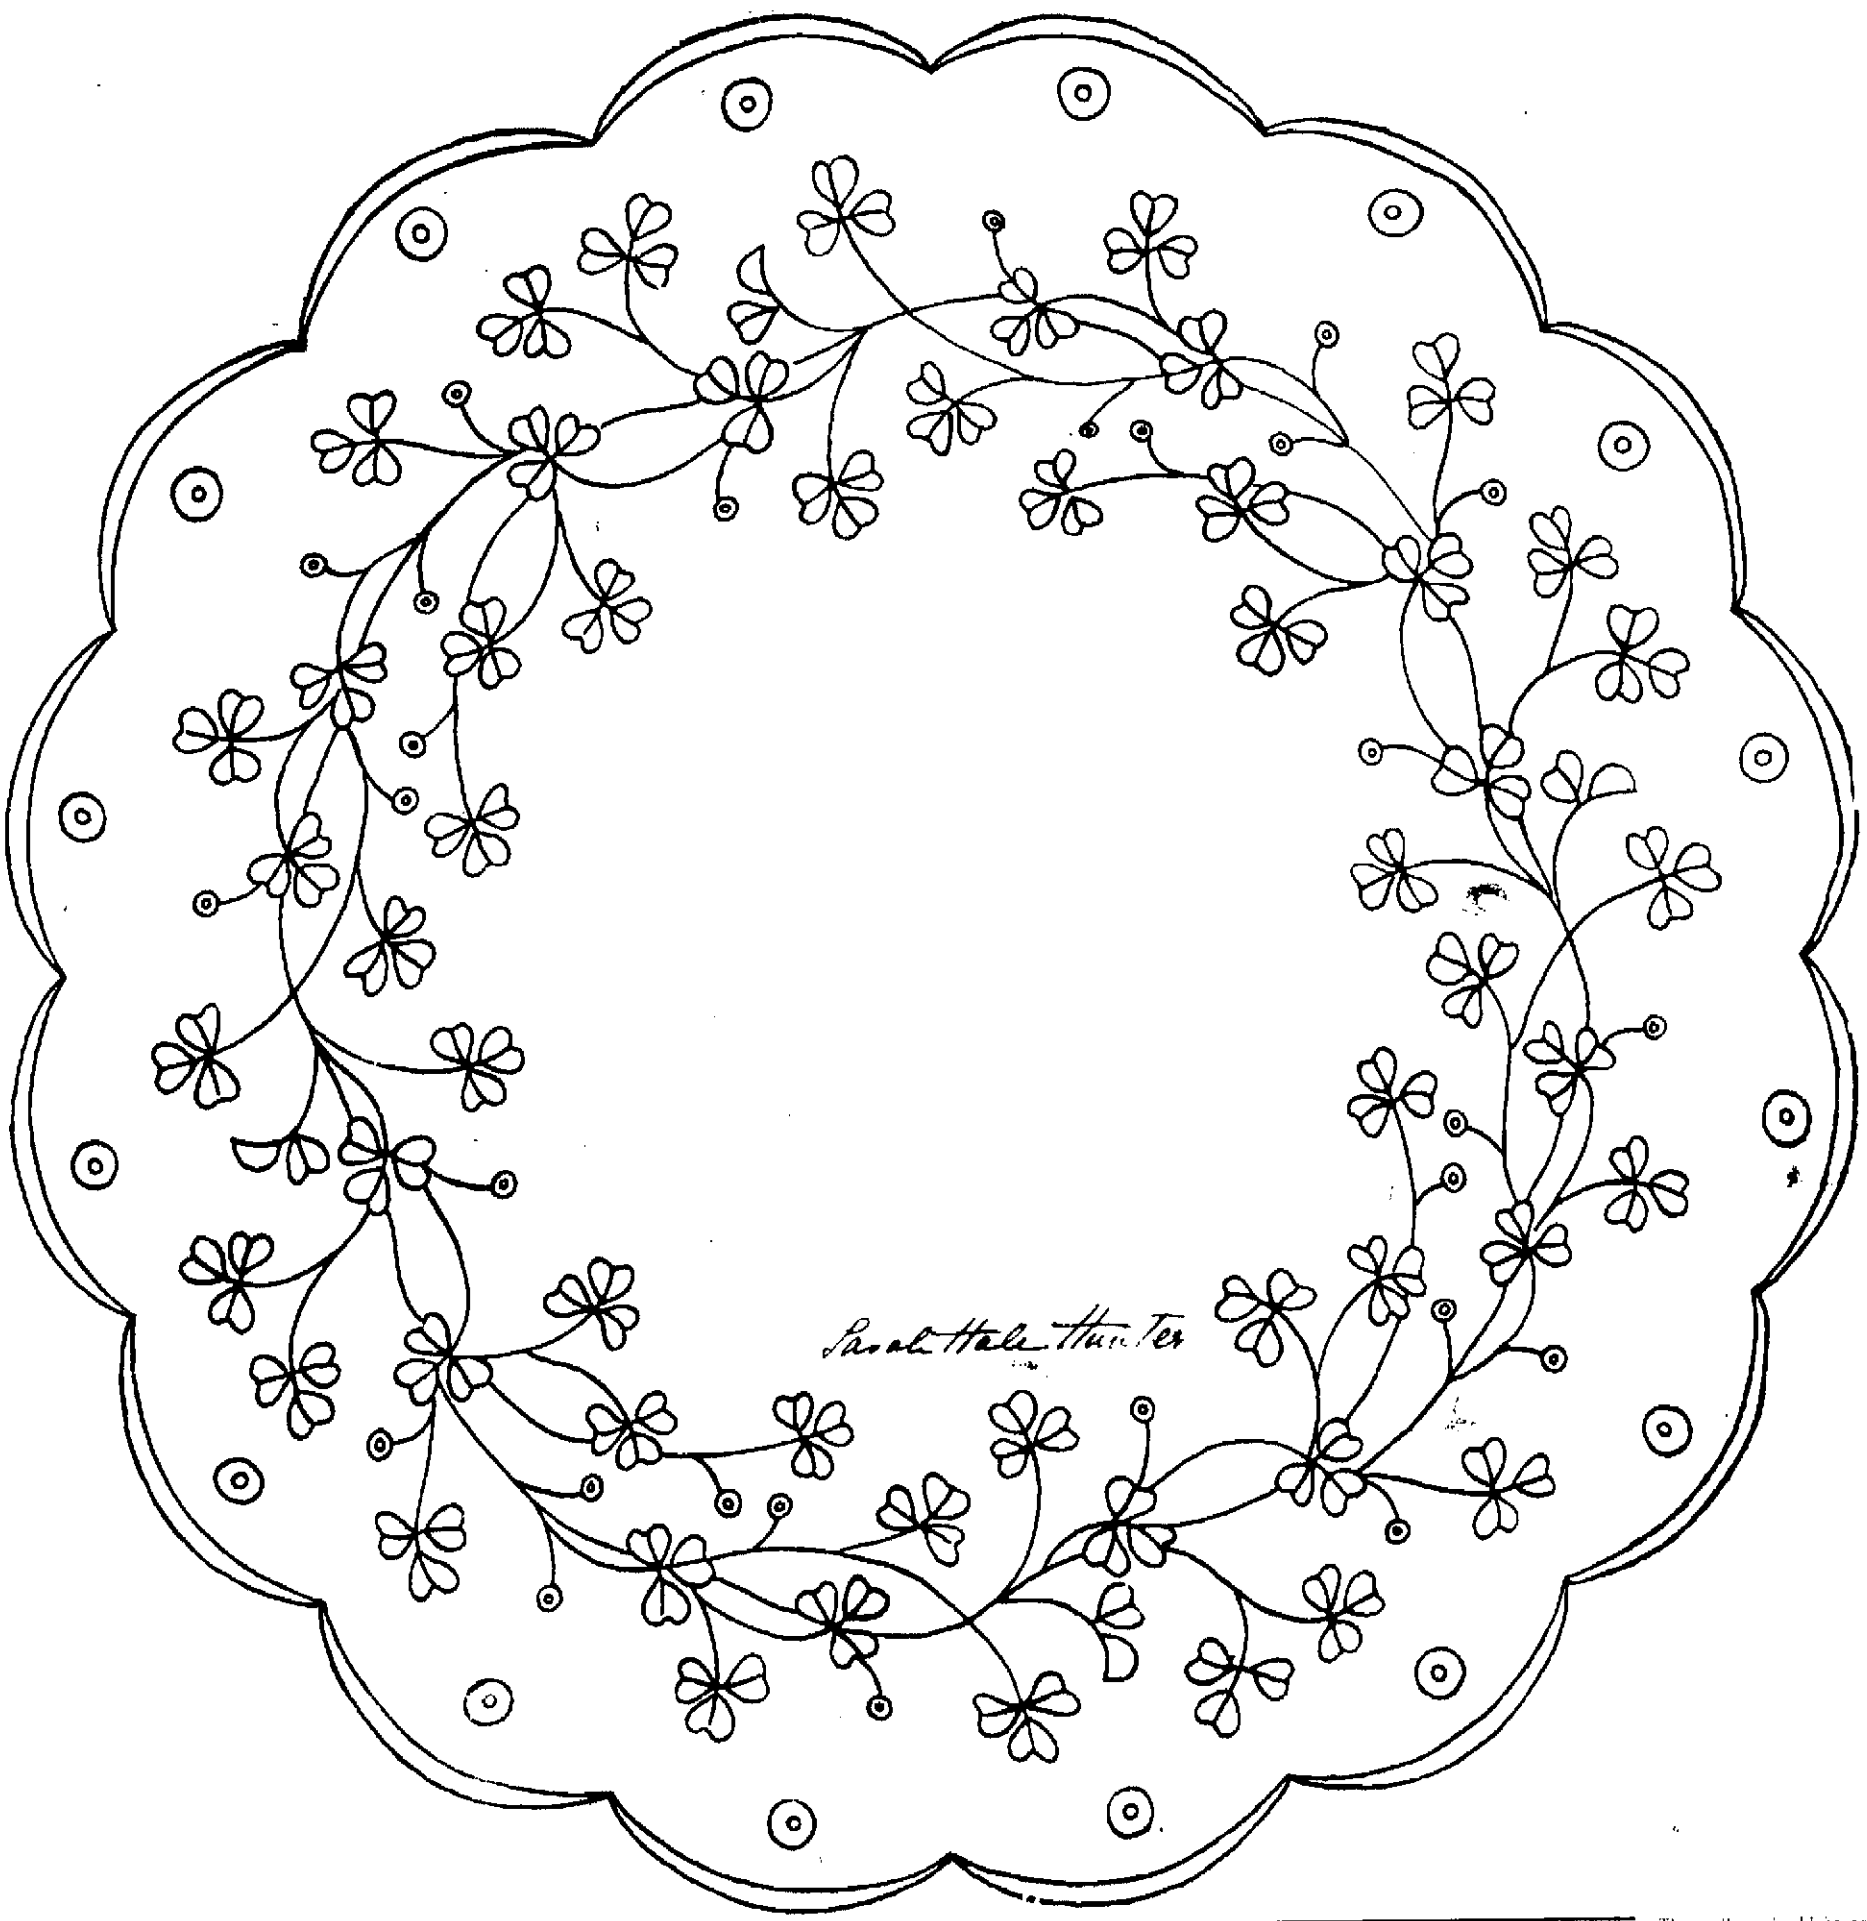
CENTREPIECE IN WALLACHIAN EMBROIDERY



The scallops should be padded and closely buttonholed. The leaves and dots are done in the Wallachian embroidery which consists in a close buttonhole stitch started in the centre and with the purled edge brought to the outside. Mercerized cotton No. 20 should be used.

DIRECTIONS FOR TRANSFERRING.

In taking off these patterns, lay a piece of impression paper upon the material, place the newspaper pattern over this, and with a hard, sharp pencil draw firmly over each line. If the material is sheer it may be laid over the pattern and drawn off with pencil, as the design will show through.

No patterns of these designs are available.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly:—I am a boy eighteen and considered very good looking boy, and all the girls seems to take with me. I have been keeping company with a girl twenty two and when I go to see her at her home she seems to think a lot of me, but when out in company she don't seem to care for me. Dolly, do you really think she loves me?

BLACK EYED BEN.

No. She doesn't like you any better than she does any other little boy. No doubt you are real cute. Do you wear Buster Brown suits and bobbed hair?

Dear Miss Wise: Kindly tell me something about the Camp Fire Girls. Where can I join them and does it cost any thing. Where can I get a loom to make a bead band out of beads? Is my writing good?

NOME.

Inquire at the Y. W. C. A. corner Second and Jay, about Camp Fire Girls. I do not know unless the local stores have them. Your writing is very good.

Dear Dolly Wise: I am an old maid twenty-eight years of age and am very homely. How can I win a beau? I want to get married as I have no home. I can't win a husband. Please suggest a good position for an old spoil.

POOR OLD MAID.

There aren't any old maids in this day and age. You have as good a chance to marry as any pretty girl. Just have patience, the right man will come along some day.

Dear Miss Wise: I cannot stand a cold bath, but every one tells me that it is healthy to take one every morning.

INVALID.

To take a cold bath when your system can not stand it, is nothing short of foolish. A warm bath with water gradually chilled is sufficiently bracing to many people. Take whatever kind of bath suits you best so long as you face the bath.

Dear Miss Wise:—I come to you for a little advice. I am 20 years of age and have been going with a girl twenty-five years of age and I love her very dearly, and I think she loves me. I want to get married. How shall I propose?

GREEN HORN.

A girl 25 is too old for you. Can't you find some one your own age?

Dear Miss Wise: I am deeply in love with a young man. He is 18 years old and I am 17 years old. He won't come in the house after me but he brings me home from church, or anywhere. Tell me how I can get him to come in.

ANXIOUS HAZEL.

Don't go with him unless he comes in and meets your parents.

Miss Dolly Wise: There is going to be a party, and all the rest of the girls are invited but me. I guess they think I am too small. What must I do to make them invite me?

HOMELY HAZEL.

I wouldn't want to go where I wasn't invited if I were you. Just be satisfied to stay home.

Dear Miss Wise: I am working in a store, and I have a fellow that comes to see me and he just hangs around the store where I work all the time. What must I do to get rid of him?

ROSE.

Tell him to "beat it" or you'll tell the boss.

Miss Dolly Wise: I am a girl 15 years old and would like to know how long to wear my dresses?

LOVE TO KNOW.

Not quite to the instep.

Pittsburgh, Pa. March 4, 1914.
Dear Miss Wise: Please give me your advice. We get the Times every day and I think it is great. Please tell me what to do about my hair. When I rub my scalp while dandruff comes out my head and it is sort of thick in some places. It looks like gray to me but when I tell anyone that they just laugh because I am only 17 years old. When a young man goes to see me I am going with him but never knew what does he mean. I didn't want to take it to heart. I like him. Could you tell me how a girl can get acquainted with others. Where should she go. When you go out dining should you thank the man? What's the lucky days born in April. I beg that I am too long Would be thankful for your advice.

PITTSBURGH GIRL.

Brush your hair good every day and rub a little vaseline into the scalp. Keep your combs and brushes clean and shampoo your hair every two or three weeks. It might be a good idea to see a hair dresser as you may have a scalp disease. You should not accept a ring or any other valuable present from a young man unless you are engaged to him. Would advise you to return it. A girl can't be too careful about making friends in a large city. Better not have any acquaintances than undesirable ones. If you have any brothers let them invite their friends to call at your home or they might take you out once in a while and introduce you to folks they know are all right. Your girl your age is too young to go out to dinner with a young man unless properly chaperoned. One day is as lucky as the next one.

Dear Miss Wise:—I have a pair of blue suedes and wore a pair of wet rubbers over them, which made them terribly streaked and soiled. Can you tell me what will remove same?

WANT TO KNOW.

You might try rubbing sand paper over them or get a suede polish at a shoe store.

Dear Miss Wise:—You seem to give very good advice, and I would like to have you give some advice. My skin is very oily and have open pores. What can I do for them? I also am bothered with a great many blackheads. Please advise.

MARGARET.

Wash the face well in hot water and a good soap; taking care to rinse well, and if possible use a rather soft brush with which to scrub it. Rinse in a skin food well and then wash again in hot water wiping dry with a soft towel; then dash cold water on the face. Blackheads are but enlarged pores filled with dirt, which is easily scrubbed out. Bathe the face in water in which a few drops of tincture of benzoin have been dropped; this tending to contract the pores. When the face is very oily rubbing it with a cloth wet with equal alcohol and water will do it good. Bathing often to keep the body pores open works wonders with a poor complexion.

My Dear Miss Wise: Is it correct for a young man to take hold of a girl's arm on the street. Some say it is all wrong.

SAM.

Taking hold of a person's arm as a matter of assistance in getting over rough or slippery places is certainly proper, in my opinion, no matter how many say "it is all wrong." An indiscriminate hanging on is hardly the thing, but you are to be the judge of when the assistance is needed.

BIG BOULDER CRASHED AGAINST N. & W. TRAIN

Lives of a score or more of passengers on N. & W. passenger train, No. 37, Cincinnati division, were endangered Friday afternoon when a huge boulder, weighing from 800 to 1000 pounds dropped from its fastening at the top of the cut near Arion and crashed into the side of the smoking car, tearing a good-sized hole in the lower side of the coach.

Had the heavy stone fallen a few inches at the proper foot or two further towards the [illegible] train it would undoubtedly have struck the [illegible] form a hole in the roof or crushed out [illegible] through the windows and fallen sufficient weight to [illegible] upon the heads of the passengers therein.

The passengers on the [illegible] were thrown into a state of [illegible] ror by the sudden shock, [illegible] by the impact of the rock against the side of the train, which was standing at the [illegible] not relieved until Engineer Sam [illegible] Brooks had stopped the train and [illegible] an investigation started. After [illegible] an examination had established [illegible] the fact that no one was [illegible] ly injured and that no serious [illegible] damage had been done to any [illegible] the cars, the train proceeded on [illegible] its way to Cincinnati.

Engineer Brooks was struck on the right cheek by a small stone chip, which inflicted a painful flesh wound, but it did not prevent him from continuing at the throttle for the balance of the trip. William Potts, the switchman, was also painfully injured by being struck a glancing blow when the rock rebounded from the train, but he soon revived, and was able [illegible] the way of the accident [illegible] where the boulder [illegible] Potts [illegible] One of the passengers [illegible] and was W.
